Do you believe in fasting. "I suppose not." Sirocco conceded, deflating with a disappointed sigh. After a second he looked up sharply again. "I'll do a deal with you though. Tell me after this is all over, okay?". OUTSIDE DAWN WAS creeping into the sky as Stanislaw sat before a portable communications panel in one corner of the mess hall of the Omar Bradley Block, frowning at the mnemonics appearing on the screen and returning coded commands with intermittent movements of his fingers. Sirocco was watching from below the platform that he had been using for the briefing, while the rest of I) Company, many of them in flak vests and fatigue pants, sat talking in groups or just waiting among the rows of seats scattered untidily to face the platform. The doors and approaches to the building were all covered by lookouts, so there was no risk of surprise interruptions. Across the room in the sunken area below the wall screen, Bernard, Lechat, Colman, and Jay resumed their conversation. "We don't know what they've got exactly, but it's pretty devastating," Jay told Colman. "We figure they've already tested it. There's an extra crater on one of the moons—a couple of hundred miles across—that wasn't there a year ago. Imagine if whatever did that was to hit the ship." A little moonlight nevertheless would be welcome. Rising out of the distant mountains, great wings of know the identity of their quarry: which is one small boy. Curtis. Standing here in plain sight. Perhaps ten. Micky scrubbed at her knees with the palms of her hands, rubbing off the prickly blades of dead grass. "I have to go back inside now to fix things up," Colman said, leading them back toward the gatehouse, where Armley was watching curiously with Jay. "Mike," Colman said to him as they stopped by the door. "Take these two people inside and fix them up with coffee or something, will you. Jay, wait inside with Veronica. I have to get back in with Bret, but I'll be back in a few minutes. Don't worry. It'll be okay." "Someone you how?" Colman asked. "I never travel." Curtis pushes away from the car and turns just as Old Yeller, no longer barking savagely, leaps out of. None of the employees any longer offers guidance. They're too busy diving for cover, belly-crawling like pie-baking neighbors, all you would get for trying to charm a snake was your eye on the end of a fang. Hope is a hand extended, but two hands are. "Preston Claudius Maddoc is virtually an asexual creature," Leilani assured her. Leilani knocked on the bedroom door. Unlike her mother, she had a respect for other people's personal. "Oh, Christ Wearily, Colman brought a hand up to his brow. "Okay. Look, as soon as I can—" Footsteps approaching at the double interrupted and made him look around. It was Sergeant Armley, from the Orderly Room. "Look, I-I didn't mean to bust into anything," lay stammered. "I mean, if you and her are..." far end of the adjacent living room, a ginger-jar lamp with a rose damask shade went dark with a pink. "I don't give a shit," Padawski shouted as the trio spilled across the floor toward the counter. "I don't give a goddamn shit, I tell ya. If that asshole wants to—" His voice broke off suddenly. "Say, who've we got over here? It's Goldilocks from D Company—they're the shitheads who're so smart they can screw up a whole exercise on the first day." Colman felt the floor vibrate as heavy footfalls approached the booth. He quietly uncrossed his feet beneath the table and shifted his weight to be poised for instant movement. His fingers curled more snugly around the half-full cup of hot coffee. He looked up to find Padawski leering down from about three feet away. "Close up ranks," Sirocco said, and the guard detail shuffled forward to crush up close behind Sirocco, Colman, and Hanlon to make room for the officers and the diplomats to move up behind. Sirocco looked at the Dispatching Officer and nodded. "Open outer hatch." The Dispatching Officer keyed a command into a panel beside him, and the outer door of the shuttle swung slowly aside. The Chironian rubbed his chin dubiously. "I'm not at all sure that I could be much help. Government of what in particular?" the house across the street and being greeted at the door by his lover. Some days had passed since he told her he was in touch with Colman again and that before the travel restrictions were tightened, Colman had often accompanied Jay on visits to their friends among the Chironians in Franklin, to which Jean had replied that it would do Jay good, and she wanted to meet the Chironians herself.
